THE 1963 MEMOIR

WARRENTON HIGH SCHOOL

Vol. XXIII

FOREWORD

It is the hope of the MEMOIR Staff that this issue will bring back many happy memories of our days at Warrenton High. Even though we will never again have the opportunity of an education in this school, what experiences we have already gleaned can never be taken from us.

Let us treasure what Warrenton High has given to us -- a broadening education, higher standards, and a view of wider horizons.

Dedicated to the Memory of

Mr. P. B. Smith, Jr.

As the last class to graduate from Warrenton High School, we will carry with us the memory of our beloved former principal, Mr. P. B. Smith, Jr., who died on February 26, 1962, while we were juniors.

When we entered high school in the eighth grade, we soon came to know this tall man as our friend and respected him as our counselor and leader. As the years passed quickly by, we grew accustomed to his presence in our class rooms, to his friendly greeting and comforting pat on the shoulder as we passed through the halls on the way to class. Each student came to know that if it became necessary that he be sent to the office, he could always expect a sympathetic approach to his problem. When Mr. Smith left us, students and teachers alike experienced a great sense of personal loss.

As we receive our diplomas, we will take with us the ideals set before us by a great man who devoted his life to molding high school students into the young men and women who would build the future of our nation and our world.

Around Our School

1. Happy Birthday, Molly (Cafeteria extras?)
2. Goodness, I'm getting dishpan hands! (Senior Home Management)
3. Help yourself, Mike. (Exchange Day with Cedar-Lee)
4. Read it back, Gloria. (Mr. Harner dictates)
5. Gee, guess Bill goofed! (Physics Lab)
6. Won't anyone bid for this slave?-(Junior Class Slave Auction)

Around Our School

1. "Coaches" Hanback and Crane seem to be getting it across. (Bull Session in the locker room)
2. Reference (?) work in the library. (Sixth period)
3. Concentrating on the game, Mr. Harner? (Football 1962)
4. You simply must learn to concentrate on what I'm saying. (Mrs. Eisenhard's English Class)
5. Good punch, girls, or just good conversation? (Exchange Day with Cedar-Lee)
6. You do it this way, see. (Senior Home Management)
